

Sponsored Training for job seeker applicants.

Have you ceased working in this industry some months ago?

If so, Export Edge may be able to assist you upgrade your skills and knowledge of current industry practice.

FAS offers funding for unemployed persons who wish to pursue a short term course of study. Export Edge Training are registered and quality approved by FAS, where various courses offered by us receive FAS funding.

If you are in receipt of unemployment benefit and wish to receive funding for a course, Export Edge Training can assist you in choosing the right course to update your industry skills.

Once you have chosen the right course, you must contact your local FAS Employment Services Officer, who will assess your eligibility. The funding amount can vary depending on the cost of the course. There is no guarantee that you will get funding and each applicant is reviewed directly with FAS.

Should you be approved for funding, an employment officer from FAS will then contact Export Edge Training and make arrangements for payment.

People in employment are not entitled to this funding. Many people are refused funding and we offer a payment instalment plan.
